

General Service Foundation's 3 Questions for Verbal Reporting

These questions are asked verbally via phone or in-person conversations. Program staff take notes during the discussion and then add those notes to the organizational database as a way to keep track of grantees' progress.

- 1) What do you want us to know about your work over this last period?
- 2) What are the strategic questions you are grappling with?
- 3) How can we help?