POLICY #: 249

TITLE: Professional Development Reimbursement Policy

EFFECTIVE DATE: January 1, 2024
REVISED DATE: September 15, 2023

MANAGED BY: Operations
APPLIES TO: Staff

APPROVED BY: President & CEO
SIGNATURE: [Signature]

PURPOSE:

Rasmuson Foundation recognizes that investing in the ongoing development of staff enhances organizational effectiveness and contributes to the achievement of our mission. The purpose of this policy is to provide opportunities for staff to acquire and enhance skills, knowledge and competencies relevant to their roles within the Foundation.

POLICY:

Eligibility

Full-time permanent staff members are eligible for reimbursement for professional development costs that are approved by the organization.

Types of Professional Development

Professional Development activities may include, but are not limited to:

- Conferences, workshops and seminars
- Courses, certifications and training programs
- Webinars, online courses and e-learning modules
- Professional memberships and subscriptions

Eligible Expenses

It is the staff member’s responsibility to seek out the courses and other training mediums that will enhance his or her career development and are in line with the Foundation’s mission. Professional development can be obtained through attendance at seminars, educational courses or webinars, and some degree or certification programs that will assist the staff members in performing his or her essential job functions and increase the staff member’s contribution to the organization. Internal Revenue Service (IRS) regulations require that there be a nexus between the professional development activity and a staff member’s performance of essential job responsibilities.

Due to IRS regulations, employees may not utilize professional development benefits for training or formal education that would qualify the individual for a new career field. Extracts from IRS publications are appended to this policy for additional guidance.

Membership fees to professional organizations, subscriptions for scholarly journals, books and computer-based resources related to staff’s duties at the Foundation are also eligible for reimbursement.

Procedure
Staff must request permission from their immediate supervisor for review and approval to receive reimbursement for the desired training, coaching and/or other professional development resources. The request must include a description of the requested course, instruction, service or item, its job relevance, cost, dates, times of coursework and the name of the institution or source of training. Upon approval, staff may procure the desired professional development or subscription utilizing their Rasmuson-Foundation issued credit card.

Extent of Benefit and Potential Recovery

The maximum reimbursement amount will be $5,000 per calendar year, which will be prorated for new employees in their first calendar year. The amount does not roll into the next calendar year; it is forfeited if unused. Note: this $5,000 is cumulative of benefits received under this and the tuition assistance policy.

In a graded program where at least a “C” is received is or a “pass” is received in a pass/fail course, staff is eligible for 100% costs paid by the Foundation. For grades less than a “C” or a fail in a pass/fail course, the Foundation may recover the costs it has paid on behalf of staff. If staff has experienced extenuating circumstances, staff may appeal to the President and Chief Executive Officer to avoid recovery.

RELATED POLICIES: Tuition Assistance

REVIEW PERIOD: The Foundation reserves the right to grant exceptions to this policy based on business needs. This policy will be reviewed annually, or as necessary for needed revisions.
