

Thousand Currents Grant Reporting Guidelines

[Partner] [FY of grant] [Grant Type]
Period Reporting On: [Grant Duration]

Thousand Currents is interested in hearing about your overall work and lessons learned during the past year. The information you provide is very valuable to our partnership, and will help Thousand Currents to:

- understand your work more deeply, including your successes, challenges, learnings, and aspirations.
- where appropriate, enter into conversation about providing additional support, when possible, in areas where partners are facing challenges or are seeking to amplify a particular area of their work.
- report back to our current funders and to share your work and learnings with new and prospective funders and donors.
- work in close collaboration with our partners to advance our strategy to influence philanthropy in the U.S. to adopt philanthropic practices that holistically support and are in service of grassroots movements, in addition to amplifying the principle that the strategic goals of philanthropy should be determined by grassroots movements.

If you need any further clarification or have additional questions about this document or your report, please get in touch with [Thousand Currents Regional Team]. We appreciate your honest feedback and reflection, and we look forward to reading your report.

Please respond to the question below in the format and length of your choosing.¹

What would you like us to know about your work and what has happened in your organization over the past year?

Additionally, if you have any recent photos, videos, interviews, or news articles about your work that you would like to share with us, please send them as separate attachments.

¹ If you have prepared reports for other funders that cover the information that you would like to share with Thousand Currents, we welcome you to submit those instead of writing a new report.
